Permanent Hair removal and Skin shaping

Laser hair removal is a safe, gentle and effective way to remove unwanted hair permanently .Hair removal methods such as shaving waxing tweezing and depilatories can only provide temporary relief and while electrolysis can provide permanent hair removal it can be very painful, expensive and time consuming. Laser hair removal safely removes unwanted hair without damaging the skin .Laser hair removal is an efficient treatment that can remove any unwanted hair and provide long term results.Laser hair removal utilizes lasers that emit a beam of light that passed through the skin which is then absorbed into the hair follicle. This light energy is transformed into heat so that is can disable the follicle. Different lasers are used depending on different skin types. Today individuals with skin tones ranging from white to dark are able to reduce unwanted hair with positive results.
